

Best Practices Working Group Facilitation for the Canadian Airports Council (CAC)

The Canadian Airports Council (CAC) is an industry association that lobbies the federal government on issues that affect the business interests of Canadian airports. Formed during the devolution of airports to local control, the CAC has established itself as a reliable and credible federal representative for airports on a wide range of significant issues and concerns.

Services:

ISR was selected by the CAC to facilitate two sessions of their SMS Best Practices Working Group. The ISR team, using their extensive knowledge and experience with respect to SMS, was able to help the members of the working group, which represent 11 different Canadian airports, develop a greater understanding of and practical methodologies to accomplish the various SMS processes. Participating members included the Greater Toronto, Calgary, Ottawa and Vancouver Airport Authorities and Kelowna, Edmonton, Halifax and St John's International Airports.
